Practice Test #1, Question #1—The answer should be B.

Practice Test #1, Question #37—The date in the rationale should be March 26, 2013, not March 26, 2015.

Practice Test #1, Question #87—The answer is correctly listed as C. The rationale should state:

Two-factor authentication uses two different methods of authentication to get access to a system. Methods of authentication are something you know, something you have, and something you are. For this specific question, fingerprint and token is the only form of two-factor authentication as it provides something you are and something you have.

Practice Test #1, Question #98—The correct answer should be B. The rationale is correct.
